When the Applicant on 14.08.2024, sent a Representation dated 14.08.2024 to the Respondents seeking action against the Not-implementation of solid waste management Rules as per Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR),2019 read with Municipal Solid Waste Rules, 2016 and the Applicant also sent a RTI dated 14.08.2024 to the Respective Public Information Officers of the Respondents pertaining to the implementation of solid waste management Rules as per Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019 read with Municipal Solid Waste Rules, 2016.
- e. The Applicant submits that with respect to the Greater Chennai Corporation, the 4th Respondent herein who has not been able to manage the wastes generated in the city and has been using Pallikaranai marshlands for dumping as reported on 08.04.2023 by The Times of India as article "Greater Chennai Corporation pushes trash into 'Ramsar site' Pallikaranai marshlands", which states that "the TOI spotted workers of Urbaser Sumeet, GCC's Solid Waste Management contractor for South Chennai, pushing fresh waste on the border of the dump yard into flatter and newer parts of the marshland. Since there is no physical boundary demarcating the 220 acres of the dump yard from 1,482 acres of the marshland area, waste dumping goes unchecked. The dump yard itself is on the marshland and the civic body is not supposed to dump waste in newer areas. But several areas filled with greenery and water are now filled with waste. GCC Chief Engineer (solid waste management department) N Mahesan denied this. About 94 acres in the interior of the dump yard had been bio-mined and waste cannot be dumped there, he said. 'Waste dumped only in spots allotted by GCC' Mahesan said, We have slightly extended the border of the dump yard. I inspected the spot and waste is dumped within our boundaries. We are not expanding it. We have allotted two spots for Urbaser which is dumping it there. Urbaser Sumeet General Manager Jai Kiran said waste was being dumped only in spots allotted by the corporation. With the marshland having shrunk from more than 13,000 acres (5,260 hectares) to just 1,482 acres (599 hectares) in about 50 years, experts said the walls should be built to differentiate it from the dump yard. Waste encroaching the marshland would lead to leakage of chemicals. It must be scientifically removed and managed, and dumping stopped, said Geo Damin, solid waste management expert. Others want decentralized dumping. Why should all the waste keep coming to perungudi? It can be processed locally, said S Janakarajan, a development economist. There must be a detailed study on hard metal contamination in the marshland. Past studies done by Anna University showed presence of salt, heavy metals, chemicals from plastic and methane in the marshland."

- f. The Applicant submits that very recently, the Applicant came across the following layouts that has been approved by the Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority (CMDA) and the reference detail are here as follows:

- g. The Applicant submits that the 1st Respondent has not ensured that a separate space for segregation, storage, decentralised processing of solid waste has been established as per Rule 11(1)(g) of The Solid Waste Management Rules, 2016, which states as follows:

“direct the town planning department of the State and local bodies to ensure that a separate space for segregation, storage, decentralised processing of solid waste is demarcated in the development plan for group housing or commercial, institutional or any other non-residential complex exceeding 200 dwelling or having a plot area exceeding 5,000 square”.

- h. The Applicant submits that it is essential and necessary for any approval to be in accordance with Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019, which states as follows:

“In residential or predominantly residential developments with dwelling units exceeding 100 in number, the layout design should include waste management infrastructure and atleast a closed non-polluting storage provision for solid waste storage within the premises preferably with direct access from the abutting road shall be provided so that the local body can collect this stored waste from it”.

- i. The Applicant submits that for every approved residential layout of more than 100 units/plots, the approval as well as the applicant will have to provide for compulsory solid waste treatment space. The Applicant further submits that there is no specific area prescribed for setting up a solid waste management plan as per the MSW Rules, 2016 in the aforesaid layouts.
- j. The Applicant submits that for this reason, these layouts have to be cancelled or appropriate action should be taken against issuance of such approval.

- k. The Applicant submits that in addition to the above said layouts, it is to be noted that in every layout that has been approved by the Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority (CMDA) or by the Directorate of Town and Country Planning (DTCP), they are not in compliance of Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019 and as a result, the aforesaid layouts would not be in compliance with the MSW Rules, 2016 as well. Greater Chennai Corporation pushes trash into 'Ramsar site' Pallikaranai marshland

TNN | Apr 8, 2023, 06:33 AM IST

CHENNAI: The coveted Ramsar site tag should normally accord protection from any violation, but Greater Chennai Corporation has been brazenly violating all norms in the ecologically sensitive Pallikaranai marshland bordering the Perungudi dump yard. On Wednesday and Thursday, TOI spotted workers of Urbaser Sumeet, GCC's solid waste management contractor for South Chennai, pushing fresh waste on the border of the dump yard into flatter and newer parts of the marshland. (TOI has photographs showing this.)

Since there is no physical boundary demarcating the 220 acres of the dump yard from 1,482 acres of the marshland area, waste dumping goes unchecked. The dump yard itself is on the marshland and the civic body is not supposed to dump waste in newer areas. But, several areas filled with greenery and water are now filled with waste.

GCC chief engineer (solid waste management department) N Mahesan denied this. About 94 acres in the interior of the dump yard had been bio-mined and waste cannot be dumped there, he said.

'Waste dumped only in spots allotted by GCC'

Mahesan said, "We have slightly extended the border of the dump yard. I inspected the spot and waste is dumped within our boundaries. We are not expanding it. We have allotted two spots for Urbaser which is dumping it there."

Urbaser Sumeet general manager Jai Kiran said waste was being dumped only in spots allotted by the corporation.

With the marshland having shrunk from more than 13,000 acres (5,260 hectares) to just 1,482 acres (599 hectares) in about 50 years, experts said the walls should be built to differentiate it from the dump yard. "Waste encroaching the marshland would lead to leakage of chemicals. It must be scientifically removed and managed, and dumping stopped," said Geo Damin, solid waste management expert.

Others want decentralised dumping. "Why should all the waste keep coming to Perungudi? It can be processed locally," said S Janakarajan, a development economist. "There must be a detailed study on hard metal contamination in the marshland."

Past studies done by Anna University showed presence of salt, heavy metals, chemicals from plastic and methane in the marshland.

Sir,

Sub: Representation with respect to implementation of solid waste management rules as per Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019 read with Municipal Solid Waste Rules, 2016.

I, S.P. Surendranath Karthik, S/o. K.R.Subramanian, having office at No.17/7, Vidyodaya 1st Cross Street, T.Nagar, Chennai 600017, would like to make the following representation:

The biggest challenge that has been faced by the Greater Chennai Corporation is that the entire garbage that has emerged from the city has been dumped in Pallikaranai marshlands, even though the city is not able to cope with the waste that has been generated. This problem can be dealt by implementation of MSW rules at grass root level, which will include basic criteria, including specific areas in each of the approved layouts in line with the provisions of law which are already in place.

The Article "Greater Chennai Corporation pushes trash into 'Ramsar site' Pallikaranai marshlands", by The Times of India says that the coveted Ramsar site tag should normally accord protection from any violation, but Greater Chennai Corporation has been brazenly violating all norms in the ecological sensitive Pallikaranai marshland bordering the Perungudi dump yard.

I would like to state that very recently, I came across the following layouts that has been approved by the Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority (CMDA) and the reference detail are here as follows:

S.No.	Approval No. PPD/L.O. No.	Local Body
1	12/2023	Poonamallee PU
2	15/2023	Sholavaram PU
3	18/2023	Greater Chennai Corporation
4	19/2023	Kundrathur PU
5	21/2023	Kundrathur PU
6	39/2023	Sholavaram PU
7	10/2024	St.Thomas Mount PU
8	12/2024	Kundrathur PU
9	30/2024	Poonamallee PU
10	32/2024	Kattankolathtur PU

I hereby submit that it is essential and necessary for any approval to be in accordance with Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019, which states as follows:

"In residential or predominantly residential developments with dwelling units exceeding 100 in number, the layout design should include waste management infrastructure and atleast a closed non-polluting storage provision for solid waste storage within the premises preferably with direct access from the abutting road shall be provided so that the local body can collect this stored waste from it".

I hereby state that for every approved residential layout of more than 100 units/plots, the approval as well as the applicant will have to provide for compulsory solid waste treatment space. I find that there is no specific area prescribed for setting up a solid waste management plan as per the MSW Rules, 2016 in the aforesaid layouts.

The aforesaid approved layouts are not in compliance with Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019. For this reason, these layouts have to be cancelled or appropriate action should be taken against issuance of such approval.

I would like to state that in addition to the above said layouts, it is to be noted that in every layout that has been approved by the Chennai Metropolitan Development Authority (CMDA) or by the Directorate of Town and Country Planning (DTCP), they are not in compliance of Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019 and as a result, the aforesaid layouts would not be in compliance with the MSW Rules, 2016 as well. It is also to be noted that the municipal authority has been vested with wide powers for the purpose of implementation of MSW Rules, 2016 which includes punitive action as well.

Therefore, in these circumstances, I request your good office to provide me with a personal hearing to explain my case to ensure compliance of Rule 17 of the Tamil Nadu Combined Development and Building Rules (TNCDBR), 2019, to include solid waste management plan area for the aforesaid layouts. Further, if no action is initiated for the non-compliance of above detailed prescribed rules against the aforesaid layouts, I will not have any other remedy but to approach the Hon'ble High Court of Madras or any other Court / Tribunal.

(S.P. Surendranath Karthik)
