GEO-TAGGING THROUGH KEYHOLE MARK-UP LANGUAGE

1. The following procedure is adopted for geo-tagging mining sites as per the Punjab State Minor Minerals Policy 2023. After defining the survey area and determining the required accuracy, survey is carried out with Differential Global Positional System equipment and software. The base station receiver (shown in Pictures 1 & 2 below) calculates its position based on its satellite signals and compares this location to the known location.
2. It is to be ensured that the DGPS survey data is in a compatible format (e.g., CSV, DWG, KML, TXT, & SHP) and contains necessary information (e.g., latitude, longitude, elevation, and feature attributes).
3. To generate a KML file, DGPS survey data is loaded into the chosen conversion tool. Software or tools that supports conversion of DGPS data to the KML format are Google Earth, Global Mapper, ArcGIS. Data collected through DGPS survey is accordingly exported to Google Earth File Format. (Picture 3)
4. After conversion to KML format, KML Settings are configured on the chosen software to generate the desired KML output, including the display format of the data as geo-coordinates (such as points, lines, polygons), its color scheme, etc. (Picture 4)
5. Next, the KML file is uploaded on the public domain through the website of the Department of Mines & Geology, Punjab. (Picture 5)

ACCESSING KML FILE THROUGH PUBLIC PORTAL

1. Upon accessing the website portal link (<https://minesandgeology.punjab.gov.in/operational-minings>), the following webpage opens.

Mining Site Name	Category	District	Status
